

In the article by Cui et al., “Antimüllerian hormone: correlation with age and androgenic and metabolic factors in women from birth to postmenopause” (Fertil Steril 2016;105:481-5), the unit of AMH should be $\mu\text{g/L}$ instead of mg/L . The number values in the article are correct. The authors apologize for the error.

In the article by Maggiore et al., “Obstetrical complications of endometriosis, particularly deep endometriosis” (Fertil Steril 2017;108: 895-912), several of the authors’ affiliations are listed incorrectly. The correct affiliations are as follows:
